Capturing and Confiscating Beer—Knocking Down Walls with Cannon Balls.

Seattle, June 11.—The safe of the Bank of Commerce was opened and all the contents, $400,000, found intact. The contents of the big safe of Tobias, Singerman & Co., consisting of valuable books and papers, were all destroyed. Three hundred in gold was badly blackened, and about $20 in silver was melted. The firm will sue the company of which the safe was bought, for damages.

A. P. Hotaling & Co. threw one hundred barrels of whisky into the harbor in hopes of saving it. Only two barrels have been recovered so far.

Gen. R. H. Magill, of San Francisco, general agent of the Home Mutual Insurance Company, has arrived. A despatch was received to the effect that 40 insurance men left San Francisco for this city. They are expected here to-morrow.

The officers of the Cascade Insurance Company have figured up their policies in the burnt district and find the losses will not exceed $35,000. They are prepared to adjust claims at once.

Albert Hanson's safe was opened yesterday. Everything was found in good shape save the watches, the works of which were all destroyed.

Dr. T. T. Minor, through the kindness of the Northern Pacific railroad, is prepared to issue passes to worthy sufferers to any part of Washington Territory or Portland, Or.

Frank Leslie's Illustrated weekly has telegraphed for views of the ruins.

A band of hoodlums late Saturday evening raided a saloon across the road from Mrs. Snyder's resort. They drove the occupants from the saloon and locking house up stairs, and held full possession for nearly an hour. After drinking as much liquor as they could, the raiders destroyed the remainder and made their escape.

The sum of $250,000 was taken from the vaults of Dexter, Horton & Co.'s bank Saturday. The interior of the vault was not particularly hot when opened and everything in its interior was uninjured by the flames.

Street Commissioner Cummings has adopted a novel means of tearing down brick walls by means of fire cylinders 8 inches long, to be shot at a distance of 100 feet from 4½-inch bore brass cannon.

Two drays loaded with beer were captured as they were coming into the city by way of the Grant street bridge. They were escorted to the Armory by a heavy guard of militia, where they were unloaded. A keg of beer brought into the city in a buggy was also confiscated. Two men who were selling liquor on Main street were arrested. Not a single drunken man was seen on the streets yesterday.

Judge W. Lair Hill is uncertain as to whether or not he has lost his fine private library. It was on the Ocean dock in storage, and he thinks it may have been placed on the Ancon and thereby saved.

The Standard Oil Company, whose warehouse was in the direct pathway of the flames, did not lose over 100 gallons of oil, although they had 80 barrels and about 2000 cases in store. The removal of this oil was an immense task; but probably saved considerable property outside the fire. The company's new warehouse will be built outside the fire limits and probably within the limits prescribed for that business by ordinance.

Along Front street from Yesler avenue to University street the Front street Cable Railway Company's track and roadway is damaged in numerous places from the effect of the intense heat. The parallel irons through which the grip runs are warped in a great many places. At University and Front their is a chasm in the roadway which is being bridged over and the roadway for the cable will be built over this at once. Some fifty men are at work and the assistant superintendent expects that the cars will be running on Monday next. The Yesler avenue cable line is damaged about $15,000, including the loss of the new cable, which burned on the wharf. No effort will be made to start the line until grades are established by the council. Repairs on the Front street line commenced yesterday. New rails have been ordered by telegraph to replace those warped. Until new rails come wooden rails will be used. Superintendent Jackson expects to have the road running Sunday. The damage is about $5000. A lot of grips and one dummy were burned at the Washington Iron Works.

The first shipment from a Seattle house since the fire was made Saturday by the Washington Broom Works to Nolan & Hotchkiss, Tacoma.

The guests at the Occidental secured all their baggage and valuables, but none of the furniture was saved.

Both engine houses, with some apparatus and about 2000 feet of hose were burned. The houses will be replaced as soon as the council can get about it.

The restaurants and stores nearly all maintain standard prices.

COMMENTS AND NOTES.

State Picnics—Ecclesiastical Jaunts—Sir John and Mr. Villard.

Our picnic season was inaugurated on the 24th of May, with the firing of cannon and plentiful feux de joie. The festivities on the Queen's Birthday, like those on Dominion Day, are held on holidays legalized by parliament, and are under the immediate auspices of our properly constituted civic authorities, who, on these occasions press into their service, or more rightly speaking, into our service, into the service of the people, all available dignitaries, imperial and colonial, military and naval. The numerous picnics which are organized to celebrate these national fetes of ours, and which, in our favored city, had recently so pompous and glittering a setting, may almost be regarded in the light of state functions, for although to the naked eye they may seem to be composed of insignificant units they are encompassed by the invisible forces of a glorious empire and welded into one magnificent demonstration. No legal tie unites church with state in this country, but her sanction and approval are none the less welcome, and these are bestowed heartily on picnics. If the foundations of the state, loyalty and patriotism, are strengthened by open air rejoicings and feastings, so are the pillars of the church sustained by the drawing together of her members and adherents in common everyday pleasures. Therefore we have not only national or state picnics, but ecclesiastical jaunts into the country, such as that of last Saturday in connection with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

There is a sufficient reminder of early Christian communism about picnics to gain for them a high rank among the recreations permitted and encouraged by our clergy, and they are perhaps especially favored by those of our ministers who most closely resemble the first apostles, and who are furthest removed from those worldly titles and dignities which exist even in some ecclesiastical circles. Considered also as an arena for the exercise of all the virtues which are urgently inculcated with more or less eloquence Sunday after Sunday, from one year to another, the picnic ground can scarcely be surpassed. It represents a miniature world, and the germs of jealousy, ambition and even social exclusiveness may be found there side by side with much kindliness, generosity and fine feeling. Picnics test and sift the character more thoroughly than any other social gathering, but then they also offer delightful opportunities for the exhibition of housewifely talents which are shown in the successful construction of salads, pies and cakes, while a reciprocal admiration is excited when masculine skill deftly unties knots, engineers seats out of most unpromising materials, and, as a climax, photographs and immortalizes the company.

Our churches certainly do not lag behind Government House in their efforts to provide entertainments for the people, and what might be considered from some lofty points of view to be deficient in the quality of their guests and gatherings is amply made up for in quantity and variety. Our provincial leaders of society, from their isolated castle, slowly, thoughtfully and decorously ring out the changes of garden party, dinner and dance, and plenty of time is allowed for the due digestion of one before another is announced. We are allowed ample opportunity of realizing what it is to exist on the reminiscences of past pleasures. It is not a mere matter of speculation with us, but one on which experience enables us to speak with some authority. The churches, on the contrary, allow us no respite. They take up their social duties as zealously as they perform their more strictly professional or official work, and they go through with them con amore, adapting themselves to all tastes and all seasons in succession. During the winter they provide concerts for the musical, lectures and literary discussions for the serious, and "socials" for the simply gregarious, who love to meet their neighbors when the day's work is done and who refresh their souls with a kindly exchange of primitive human sentiments concerning, first of all, the condition in which they find themselves, and secondly, the activity of those forces of nature which at that special moment are directly under their observations. It is first their own health and afterwards the weather. As summer advances the more intellectual entertainments are discontinued for the greater heat tends to dissipate thought and discourages the fresh flow of ideas as surely as it melts our butter and turns our milk sour. The social gatherings are continued with the help of such cooling influences as fruit and ice cream, but their success is only partial. Nature demands her tribute of homage, and the churches wisely encourage its payment and consider themselves amply rewarded if a small percentage accidentally falls to the share of their charities. As a result of last Saturday's excursion to Langford Plains there will, we understand, be a very acceptable sum of money to hand over to the Sunday school of St. Andrew's Church.

But church and state have by no means a monopoly of picnics. By and by the Free Masons, the temperance societies and every species of Odd Fellows, and also goodly numbers of Roses, Shamrocks and Thistles will no doubt disport themselves on favorite spots along the Island Railway, while private enterprise and individual effort will plan how to spend many a pleasant afternoon and evening up the Arm, or on the beach, or among the neighboring woods. In speaking of picnics we have taken the meaning that is universally accepted here and which is upheld by standard Canadian and American dictionaries. But in certain parts of Ontario, and also in some of the States, opinion would appear to differ as to the exact meaning of the word and we have frequently heard both "circus" and "picnic" applied indifferently to circumstances and events bearing no resemblance whatever to "a short excursion into the country by a pleasure party taking their own provisions." Possibly Sir John Macdonald had some such meaning in his mind the other week when he suggested a "marine picnic" as the probable solution of the reported preparations for a prolonged cruise by the war ships at Esquimalt. We were all of us more or less agitated by these reports. Indeed our martial ardour was almost sobered so near did we seem to be to actual warfare, for whatever glorious sentiments may inspire us when the drum beat, and the banners wave, and when even Q Battery retreats before our invincible marines, common sense recurs to us in the cool morning, and we confess then that the possession of Behring sea and all the seals it contains would not repay us for even a victorious fight with our next door neighbor, with those who inherit the same traditions and the same speech, and whose blood flows from the same common source. The divisions between us are only arbitrary ones of man's devising, but the barriers are strong enough, and do not require a war to make them more impassable. It is only ten days, however, since we seemed to be on the brink of a hostile demonstration, but before the current reports had been denied in England Sir John Macdonald brought his cynical worldly wisdom into play and suggested that Admiral Henesage was merely contemplating a "marine picnic." It is a still shorter time since some of our fellow citizens were looking forward hopefully to the advent of Mr. Villard of Northern Pacific railroad fame upon the Victoria stage, and possibly Mr. Higgins, did he understand dramatic phraseology, might characterize Mr. Villard's visit to us last week as a "regular picnic." Mr. Villard was the man, said some of the citizens, who would save Victoria. He would manipulate the Canadian Western, and successfully engineer a second transcontinental line that would give to Victoria her proper rank, and make her the great Pacific railroad terminus of Canada. For him, if he desired them, the Peace River lands must be retained at all costs. He also would save us from the clutches of the C. P. R. and bring down the high rates of that voracious syndicate. But Mr. Villard has come and gone. He arrived by the steamship Islander one fine night and left at four o'clock the next morning.

Victoria is a splendid focus for picnics as well as for trade and occupies a position of whose advantages no railway, and no Government, and no scheming company can rob her. Nothing short of a convulsion of nature can displace her from the rocky promontory whence she can command the trade that comes to her from the four points of the compass.

Arrests in Connection with the Dronin Murder—The Famous Case in Court.

By Postal Telegraph.]

London, June 11.—The Tribune copyright cable says: The old story about Prince Albert Victor's marriage to Princess Victoria of Wied is again talked of. It seems a great pity that it should not be allowed. Princess Victoria is as much an English Princess as can be. She is pretty, nice and popular, and was born in England and has been brought up here, and is there no drawbacks they are only pecuniary. The country need not care for the Queen would not care for marriage but she does not oppose it so strongly as other members of the family who see no reason why Princess Victoria should be preferred to their own children.

The splendor of the Shah's second visit to London seems likely to eclipse the glories of the first. The city, the Prince of Wales and Sir Drummond Wolff, are making the necessary arrangements for this entertainment. It is now intended if possible that he shall land at Gravesend and reach London by the river Thames. The embankment will be occupied by troops during his progress. A gala performance of "Aida" at the Opera has already been commended for the 2nd of July, and on the fourth he will visit the Empire Theatre which Mr. Ruben Cesson has taken for the entire evening. The Prince of Wales will be present on these occasions. Mr. Harris has promised Mr. Cesson to provide a programme replete with attractions. Lord and Lady Salisbury will welcome His Highness to Halford and it is possible that he will stay with Lord and Lady Brownlow at Ashridge and Lord and Lady Abergavenny at Eridge. He is to be shown around the Stock Exchange in London state and will be the lion at several balls.

The fourth judicial celebration was an unusually successful one this year. The weather was magnificent and the Queen's presence at the Thames side to see the boats go up attracted an unusually large number of visitors. In the afternoon the speeches in the upper school were remarkable too far, the introduction of stage properties to an unusual extent.

The government has made a great mistake in accepting the resignation of Sir Hercules Robinson. Immense efforts were made to get him to consider his determination and the government to meet his views half way. When he returned he gravely told them that the policy they were pursuing, which was largely due to home influence, would be most disastrous and that he would in no consideration go back there to carry it out. He considers the influence of Mr. Chamberlain and the party in England that he represents to have been most most dangerous and foolish. He makes no secret of his opinion and that his conviction is largely shared in is evident for the are to great difficulty about a successor to the position.

A DUKE MARRIED.

London, June 11.—The marriage of the Duke of Portland to Miss Dallas, of York, occurred to-day. The church was crowded with aristocratic guests and the wedding presents were numerous and costly, including gifts from the Prince and Princess of Wales and Lord and Lady Salisbury. The Bishop of Limerick performed the ceremony.

SOCIALISTS TO MEET.

London, June 11.—Messrs. Bebel and Liebknecht, socialist leaders, and other socialist members of the German Reichstag will attend the international congress of socialists in Paris. Eminent men from all parts of the world are expected to be present. The object and scope of this movement will be more clearly defined than ever heretofore.

CORONATION.

Vienna, June 11.—It is announced the young king of Servia will be crowned on the 26th proximo.

A ROYAL WEDDING.

Berlin, June 11.—The Emperor, Empress and Prince Henri, with a large and brilliant suite and escorted by a German squadron, will proceed to Athens next October to witness the marriage of Princess Sophie of Russia with the Crown Prince of Greece, the Duke of Spartan.

BISMARCK AS A BULLY.

Berlin, June 11.—The German Government formally notified the Government of Switzerland that it is impossible for Germany to agree with Switzerland on the justice of the latter's course in the affair of Police Inspector Wohlgmuth, and that Germany has reserved the right to take action in the matter.

WILL RISE AGAIN.

Johnstown, June 11.—Another twenty-four hours has passed and after a trip over the entire flooded district it is apparent a vast amount of work has been accomplished. Places that appeared to be insurmountable are gradually fading away before energetic men. Gangs of men will commence on blocks of debris and work in opposite directions. More wagons are to be secured but even now the debris is rapidly disappearing. Owners of houses have commenced clearing out their own residences in Johnstown, and while they request, as they frequently do, the foreman of a gang to allow his men help, they are never refused. Storekeepers are also commencing to take their goods from the wreck to wash to see what they can recover from the effects of the flood. Of course there are many sad hearts and weeping eyes in families as they find articles that, in their happy homes before the flood, belonged to loved ones, but with brave hearts they are gathering their grief and have resolved that Johnstown shall be herself again. Predictions are now being freely made that by July 1st the city will present a very creditable appearance. Houses not demolished very much are already being repaired and a cosy quence a much better feeling prevails all around now that the full sense of this community is coming to the front.

DOUBLE MURDER.

Lebanon, N. H., June 11.—A double murder was committed near Meriden early this morning by Lucian Freeman, who with an axe killed his mother, Mrs. Daniel Freeman, and John Morgan. The murderer took to the woods, but was captured.

MORE OF BISHOP.

New York, June 11.—Three physicians, Doctors Horace, Irwin and Ferguson, indicted for violating the penal code in holding an alleged autopsy on the body of mind reader Bishop, appeared in court to-day. They pleaded "not guilty," and furnished bail in $500 each.

THE CRONIN MURDER.

Chicago, June 11.—The first witness in the Cronin case this morning was John C. Garrity, a teamster, living at 121 Superior street. The substance of his testimony was that about two weeks ago Dan Coughlin came to him and asked him if he thought he could get Major Sampson to do up a fellow for him. Coughlin said, "Take a ball bat and break his nose or knock out his teeth; disfigure him for life; anything to do him up." Witness said to Coughlin, "Suppose we kill him." Coughlin replied, "Well, it wouldn't make much difference if he was killed." Garrity told Coughlin he had better see Sampson himself and Coughlin asked him to tell Sampson to come out to see him. About two weeks after, Sampson came to him laughing and asked if he knew what Coughlin wanted him to do. He said, "no," and Sampson said he wanted him to "do up" Dr. Cronin. The witness said he told Sampson to tell Cronin about it and to keep away from the whole business. Several times after this Coughlin asked witness to try and induce Sampson to do the job. Garrity denied having any feeling of enmity against Coughlin. Frank Murray, assistant superintendant of the Pinkerton agency, was next called. Murray described a trip to Sullivan's house and an interview with Sullivan on Sunday after Cronin's disappearance.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.

New York, June 11.—Inspector Byrnes' detectives to-day arrested John Maroney, aged 38, who claims to be in the dry goods business, and Charles McDonnell, same age, who is a blacksmith. These men are arrested on information sent to Inspector Byrnes by the Chicago police, and who are supposed to be implicated in the Cronin murder. Inspector Byrnes has been in communication with the Chicago chief of police for more than three weeks with regard to the men and had them closely watched. Maroney was formerly district member of the Clan Na Gael in Philadelphia. He made himself obnoxious there and had to leave. He is understood to have performed missions of a private nature since then for Alexander Sullivan. Maroney went to England at the time of the Queen's jubilee with others supplied with funds to blow up several public buildings. Two of his companions were placed under arrest and it is charged Maroney spent the funds travelling on the continent. McDonnell is believed to be from Chicago.

SAMOAN CONFERENCE.

London, June 11.—The Times correspondent telegraphs that a point in the Provisional Agreement was reached in the Samoan Conference to which the government at Washington more especially objects. The disagreement concerned the international control of Samoa. A hitch has also arisen on the question of the punishment of Mataafa, concerning which there is apparently a divergence of opinion between Washington and Berlin.

THE SHAH IN BERLIN.

Berlin, June 11.—The Shah of Persia with his suite arrived here from St. Petersburg to-day. He was welcomed by Emperor William and several other Royal Princes, Count Herbert Bismarck and a crowd of civil and military officers. A royal salute was fired during the progress of the Shah to the castle, and an ovation was given him on his arrival. The Emperor gives him a banquet at the castle this evening.

BOULANGER BETRAYED.

London, June 11.—It is understood that General Boulanger in his forthcoming communication will declare that although the papers seized in Paris are of an incriminatory character, they are revealed to the police by the persons or person who betrayed the confidence he had in them, for few people he trusted knew of the existence of the documents.

AQUATIC.

Articles have been signed for a single scull race in outrigger skiffs between G. A. Richardson of Victoria and J. R. Rathbom of Australia. The race will take place on the course from the Gorge around Deadman's Island and back, and is for a gold trophy valued at $200. The agreement calls for the race on Saturday next at half-past four o'clock. Both men have been practicing for some time and will no doubt row a hard race. Rathbom has the reputation of having rowed some of the Australian crack oarsmen.

There was a big rush to the new find, which is at Holkome Bay, 60 miles south of Juneau.

Dr. Hunter of Toronto, after which Duncan Clarke of Toronto was appointed preliminary secretary and the business committee was named. Dr. Caven then delivered an opening address, advising all present to be united and work well in one mind for the great object they had in view. The delegates then reported the work done by the committees in different sections of the country, after which the convention took recess.

Special to THE TIMES.

Ottawa, June 11.—The offer of Hugh Graham, of Montreal, and others to the Government to pay for testing the constitutionality of the Jesuits' Estate Act by the Government will refer it to the Supreme Court, is not likely to be accepted notwithstanding that $5000 have been deposited as a matter of good faith for that purpose. Such, at any rate, your correspondent was led to infer from a conversation he had with one of the Ministers of the Crown.

SEATTLE.

Judging from the reports which are coming in, Seattle's disaster only means a temporary suspension of business. The city will be rebuilt, and on a scale, if we may use the expression, in touch with times. Seattle originally had a mushroom growth, and as is usual in such cases was built largely of wood, a feature of building material which invariably ends in smoke. The buildings which are to replace the consumed ones will conform to the latest requirements in respect to elegance and proof against disastrous conflagrations, and as we remarked the other day, while Seattle has our sympathy, she is to be congratulated on the city which will have sprung up this ensuing summer. We shall expect to see in Seattle the model city on the Sound by the time a year has elapsed.

"NORTH-AMERICAN REVIEW" ARTICLES.

The Argonaut is responsible for the story that Mr. ALLEN THORNDYKE RICE's career as a publisher and editor was of the most "meretricious order, and his much advertised and vaunted Review, as big a humbug as was known to journalism." RICE is accused of stuffing his magazine with essays signed by men who never wrote them. An article over the signature of MARY ANDERSON had never seen her pen, but had been written to order for her by a well-known dramatic journalist. RICE, it is said, pretended to be greatly shocked at the discovery. Yet, in the past two years a dozen or more articles have been printed in the Review over the signatures of men who never laid eyes on them till they were in print. They were written, says the Argonaut, to the order of the Review, and paid for by the Review, and published in the Review, with the full knowledge of the proprietor that they were absolute and unmitigated frauds. With his capital to force the fighting, Mr. RICE could have made the Review a great literary engine. He was content to convert it into a sort of dime museum freak in magazinedom, for the purpose of gratifying his New England weakness for turning a penny and his ambition to secure some station in the vulgar public eye. The literary fates avenged his offenses against them by cutting off his career on the very threshold of the accomplishment of his desire. A terrible denunciation this of a dead man, and if based on fact, reacts on the intellectual taste much the same as the after knowledge of having swallowed a fly in your food. An essay, no matter how well written and suggestive, takes its character from its author. A dinner prepared by a cook to the manor born may be just as relishable as one concocted by a French chef, but somehow the knowledge that it was prepared by the latter adds to the eclat of the consumption of it. This rule is applicable to literary productions, and so it must follow that the authorship of magazine eclectics should be bona fide to insure proper intellectual relish. It is in order for Mr. RICE's friends to set him right before the reading world.

RAILWAY INFLUENCE IN ENGLAND.

HERBERT SPENCER, the English philosopher, who has published many essays on a variety of subjects, writes to a friend in Chicago that the railway morals of this country are in no way inferior to those of England. He declares that the history of English railways since 1845, shows an elaborate system of tactics by which companies have been betrayed into ruinous undertakings that benefit the few at the expense of the many. He thinks there is more wholesale corruption in the English House of Commons in the last decade than has taken place in the Federal or State Legislatures since railways became public highways. There are over 1200 members of parliament, asserts Mr. SPENCER, who are simply the agents of railways and similar corporations. Most of these are barristers who owe their election to the influence of the roads they serve. These parliamentary lawyers serve their masters, and supporters of new projects make no secret of the number of the votes they can command in the House, but proclaim it openly. Members of both Houses are canvassed openly, and any railway legislation involves an enormous outlay. It has been shown that for past years parliamentary expenses have ranged from $3,000 to $15,000 per mile, the largest proportion of which goes to the pockets of parliamentary lawyers. The legal and parliamentary expenses of one company has averaged over $900,000 a year. SPENCER is of the opinion that the Union Pacific scandal, which ruined OAKES AMES and SCUYLER COLFAX, and from whose contamination GARFIELD himself did not wholly escape it is alleged, would have been regarded a perfectly legitimate transaction in England. Mr. SPENCER has placed himself at the head of a league to secure railway reform in England, and if we recollect that the amount of capital in that country invested in railways foot up to something like $1,500,000,000, we have some conception of the labors to be performed. A large proportion of this vast sum is held by persons who have no income but that derived from their railway investments, and it has become important that railway property should be placed on a secure footing and bounds put to unwarranted extensions and intrigues between lawyers, engineers, contractors and others.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors in New York has gone into effect. The probabilities are that the small boy will now smoke himself to death in order to demonstrate his superiority to the law.

Another American fishing schooner the Mattie Winship, has been seized by a Canadian cruiser near Cape Breton Island, charged with fishing inside the three-mile limit. For a moment all eyes will be turned from Behring Sea.

In Holland an unmarried woman always takes the right arm of her escort, and the married woman the left. At a church wedding the bride enters the edifice on the right arm of the groom, and goes out on the left side of her husband.

The Globe is responsible for the following: The Rush and the Bear have been chosen to maintain the right of the United States to control Behring Sea. It is a queer thing that the American Eagle cannot do its own fighting without calling in the aid of the Rush's Bear.

The new harbor and docks at Calais will be opened this week. President Carnot will preside and there will be a grand demonstration. Over £3,000,000 has been spent on the work by which the journey between London and Paris is expected to be greatly expedited.

Recently published records show that during the past eleven years no less than 20,000 persons lost their lives in British and colonial trading and fishing vessels. The worst year was 1881-82, when 3512 persons perished. In 1886-87, however, there was a considerable falling off from the average, only 2,071 having lost their lives.

A distinguished lawyer of Brooklyn said: "Not long ago I was talking with Mr. Blaine about Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, whom we both very greatly admire for his wonderful talents. I made the remark that it was my belief that Colonel Ingersoll would ultimately renounce his agnosticism. Mr. Blaine said: 'I think so, too, and I shouldn't be surprised to see him some day in the pulpit.'"

Twelve years ago a club called the Albemarle was founded in London, the distinctive feature being that it was equally intended for women as for men. At first there were many prophecies of failure, but these have not been fulfilled. There are now some 700 members of the club, the feminine element slightly predominating. Among the names of members are many which stand high in literary and other circles.

A call has been issued to Spiritualists throughout the world to attend a universal conference of believers at Paris in September. The fundamental principles of belief which shall entitle delegates to representation in that unique body are: First, the immortality of the soul; second, the communion with those who have passed away into spirit land, third, our responsibility for all thoughts and deeds, and fourth, the fact that we have a spiritual as well as a physical body.

There is a refreshing absence of sentiment and superstition among the Scotch, devout though they are supposed to be, when a matter of business is concerned. The ancient Barony Church in Glasgow has just been abandoned for a new building, and, within a fortnight, this interesting old landmark has been sold by auction, by the frugal Kirk Session for £194 in order that it may be pulled down and removed. Suppose an old Anglican church say in London, had been closed for service under such circumstances, and any one had attempted to sell it to be cleared away, the whole country would have resounded with execrative howlings from "bishops, priests, and deacons," and their feverish followers.

The latest instance of temperance reform is recorded of a Green Bay husband, who for several years past has been in the habit of getting drunk and beating his wife. The good sisters of the W. C. T. U. had pleaded and prayed with him, charges of assault and battery had been booked against him, to satisfy which he had languished weeks in jail; the Good Templars had labored with him, and had induced him fifteen times by actual count to sign the total abstinence pledge, on five successive New Year's days he had put on a quiet wager with a companion on the "swearing off" plan, which he had on each occasion forfeited on the night of the 2nd of January, and finally the restraining and reformatory powers gave him over to his cups—his wife. That long-suffering woman, being abandoned to her own resources, took an inventory of the same and found that they consisted of a good, stout piece of rope and a rickety bedstead. She prudently added thereto a bundle of hickory switches, and with these simple appliances she, not only paid off the old scores against him but secured a pledge of total abstinence which he is afraid to break. The remedy, comments the Oregonian, is an old fashioned one, out-lasting by a long period of years the "moral suasion" methods that are alleged to pilly in the futile endeavor to coax a "good fellow" to leave off getting drunk and beating his wife. The application of it proves in this case, as it has in others reasonably well authenticated, that there is no help in an argument that is equal to self help, and no other argument that a human brute so thoroughly and readily comprehends as a physical one.

"A Halifax dispatch says: The counsel for the Government have taken action in the admiralty court against the seized American schooner Mattie Winship.

—What Toronto's well-known Good Samaritan says: "I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for over 20 years, and have tried many remedies, but never found an article that has done me as much good as Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure." CLARA E. FORTER.

The board of customs decided that lithographic presses are dutiable thirty per cent. As the machines were not enumerated hitherto, ten per cent. was paid as upon printing presses.

—There is a wide difference between medicines which affect merely the symptoms of disease and those which affect its cause. The first are useful as palliatives, the second, if of genuine efficacy, produce a radical cure. To the latter class belongs Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. Thoroughness of operation is its special attribute in all cases of Biliousness, Costiveness, Indigestion, Kidney Complaints and Female Weakness.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrison cares more for comfort than for looks in her shoes, but will doubtless put her best foot foremost in the White House.

Nine Million Witches Burned!

Sprenger computes that during the Christian era no fewer than nine million witches were immolated. In England, the last execution for witchcraft took place in 1716, but in Illinois as late as 1780 to 1790, several unfortunates were put to death. This is a terrible reflection on the boasted enlightenment of the age; but we must not be over-censorious, while we daily see friends going down to death, ignorance or prejudice preventing the use of remedies which might save them. Many a cold runs into consumption, while indigestion and impure blood debilitates the system, inviting fatal attacks, when the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would have ensured health and happiness.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

AYER'S PILLS. Sugar-Coated Cathartic

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

—For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Ealing, Richmond, Va.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Sir John and the Behring Sea Question—Argument for Reciprocity with the U. S.

From our own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Ont., June 1.—The Behring Sea question is monopolizing considerable attention here, especially in political circles. Although the members of the cabinet outwardly profess to view the dispatch of gun vessels to Behring Sea with the utmost calmness, and assert that honorable business will be satisfactorily adjusted, yet if the whole truth were known they look upon the matter with grave apprehension and consider that Sir John and Uncle Sam are playing with horses. Sir John Macdonald, in reply to a question put by your correspondent, and assuming that jaunty air and flippant manner which characterize the actions of the first minister when he is speaking on a matter which he does not want to be too explicit or seem deeply interested in, said: "Oh, it's a mere marine play. We don't attach any importance to it. I have not the slightest doubt but the United States and Britain understand each other perfectly in this matter."

"But should not the Canadian Government become acquainted with the nature of that understanding?"

"No doubt they will in due course. As yet we have had no official communication on the question. The prospects of renewing a modus vivendi settlement were very good during Mr. Cleveland's tenure of office as President, and I should not think that Mr. Harrison has any other desire than to have the whole quest on satisfactorily settled—at any rate I have yet to learn that he will not respect the law of nations."

"What about the Canadian vessels already seized?"

"We have been urging on the Home Government to press upon the United States for a settlement. I know that the Colonial office has been doing so as earnestly as it could, but so far nothing definite has been done, although considerable correspondence has passed on the subject, and the prospects of the different claims being adjusted were very favorable prior to Mr. Cleveland leaving office in the United States."

The general opinion here is that BRITISH COLUMBIA SEALERS will be exposed to capture if they intend prosecuting their business, and instead of the British navy being able to help them, they will be productive of more harm than good. On this point Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, admits that the British war ships can do nothing to prevent the seizure of Canadian vessels. The sealers, in his opinion, must submit to seizure, and trust to getting compensation afterwards. This is anything but encouraging, considering how those parties who as vessels have been captured are at present treated. Those who have had their vessels taken from them and destroyed years ago are, as yet, without one dollar's compensation. This is a case in point which illustrates plainly the advantages Unrestricted Reciprocity would be to this country. If Canada had the right to negotiate directly with the United States this vexed question would be settled long ago. It is the wretched circumlocution which we are compelled to follow after in the meantime that is the root of the evil. At present it takes both seven months for the Canadian Government to get a reply to a letter from the United States Government. If Canada could send a dispatch straight to Washington on the subject with President Harrison and his cabinet this matter would not have been so long in abeyance, but would have been disposed of satisfactorily and the interests of our fishermen preserved. As it is, it is to be hoped that the United States and Britain are agreed for, as far as the vexed Behring Sea question is concerned, and British Columbia sealers will consequently have to suffer. Britain gets all the seal skins for manufacture, and the principal market for their disposal is in the United States. Canada will be allowed to remain in the background, skirmishing under "the old flag," while England and the Yankees are conducting this paying business satisfactorily to themselves and regardless of anybody else.

THE ORANGE ORDER.

Not for many years was so much interest manifested in the meeting of the Grand Orange body as was the case this year. Its proceedings have just closed at the town of Goderich. As it was the Orangemen of Ontario who first entered their protest against the Jesuits Estates Bill and Act of Incorporation, it was naturally looked for with some anxiety as to what course the Grand Lodge should take. All the district lodges of Orangemen and Young Britons uttered no uncertain sound on this question. But as was well known that the Grand Lodge was more or less a political machine, its action was eagerly looked for. Hon. Mr. Bowell, who had not attended a meeting for four years, was present. Senator Clemow, Mr. Cochrane, M. P., Mr. McKay, M. P., and other Tory members, Orangemen, who voted against Col. O'Brien's resolution, were present. Mr. Taylor, M. P., the Tory whip and Mr. Birmingham, the Tory organizer, were also in attendance. The greatest effort ever made by the Conservative party was put forth to get the machine to triumph and the Grand Lodge to surrender. But honest John White, ex-M. P., who came all the way from the Northwest, and Mr. Mulvey, of Winnipeg, were on the spot loaded for bear. The debate on the question commenced at 10 o'clock at night and lasted until five in the morning. It was a lively discussion. The report of the committee was before the lodge censuring the Protestant members for having voted against the resolution, and "especially those who were Orangemen." The words which I have quoted were struck out of the report, and Mr. Bell moved an amendment that they should be replaced. It was on his amendment that the debate took place. By a small majority the machine sustained a temporary defeat, for the amendment was carried. Then a compromise was made and it was agreed to pass the report unanimously, the obnoxious words "especially those who were Orangemen" were left out. And they were left out. Not only was this the case, but Mr. Clarke Wallace who had served in every way he could to hamper Col. O'Brien's resolution, was even invited to address the Grand Lodge and suggested referring the matter to the Imperial Parliament, which, of course, would be Greek to Britain again. As well refer the question to the President of the United States as to the Imperial Parliament. But anything was good enough for Mr. Wallace rather than an expression from Sir John Macdonald. Again, Mr. E. F. Clarke, M. P. and Mayor of Toronto, was censured by all the lodges and his newspaper, the Sentinel, condemned. But for all that he was again made Deputy Grand Sovereign and so on. That there are Orangemen who are the politicians who are at the bottom of the mischief they undoubtedly are, but they are not to be found controlling the affairs of the Grand Lodge. All that was done at the meeting was to vote $1000 to test the constitutionality of the act, but if leading Canadian lawyers are to be believed that there is no way of getting the act before the courts, the money will remain in the Grand Lodge treasury.

NEW RAILWAY TO THE COAST.

There is a probability that the Canadian Pacific Railway will find an able competitor in the Northern Pacific Railway in Manitoba and the Northwest. For weeks past negotiations have been going on between the N. P. and G. N. W. C. towards the former purchasing the latter road, and an arrangement to that effect will no doubt be reached soon. A new road will be built by the N. P. to Brandon. From that point they will go by the G. N. W. C. to Battleford and ultimately proceed towards the Mackenzie River and through the Yellowhead pass to the Pacific coast. This is the route so first laid out by Hon. Alexander Mackenzie for the Canadian Pacific to run. It will make a much shorter road than the Canadian Pacific to the coast, and will pass through an excellent agricultural and mineral country.

TO THE SENATE.

As I wired you, Mr. Murphy, of Montreal, has been called to the Senate in place of Mr. Ryan, deceased. The appointment gives general satisfaction. This leaves four vacancies, one in Manitoba, one in Ontario, one in Quebec and one in New Brunswick. SLADTOWN.

A JUDGE'S VIEWS.

In charging the grand jury at Kamloops last week, Mr. Justice Walkem referred to the absence of criminal cases and remarked that no heinous crimes had been committed in the district. There had been crimes committed in other districts contiguous, but in every case the culprit had chosen to be tried under the Speedy Trials Act, under which a judge could hear any case without a jury except a murder case. He reviewed the cases which had come before him under this Act, and stated the country had been saved enormous expense thereby, through the fact of not having a petit jury. The expenses of the Crown in the administration of justice in the province this year, would be believed be reduced $5000 or $6000, owing to the Speedy Trials Act. This large amount, he said, could be spent in better ways on roads, etc. Every man who had come before him for trial had elected to be tried by him alone, so that in this way great expense had been saved. He considered it the height of folly, as well as a judicial mistake, to punish excessively, hence he had endeavored in all cases to keep well within the limit of his authority in that respect. Many who had come before him charged with offences had pleaded drunkenness as an excuse. Drunkenness was no excuse, nor on the other hand, did it constitute crime. The culprits may have got off lightly, but he thought not too lightly. Under the Speedy Trials Act the accused, if innocent, had the advantage of being speedily liberated, and if guilty he was punished at once, without having to undergo a prior punishment by imprisonment before trial at perhaps a distant assize. The foreman presented His Lordship with a pair of white gloves.

In the case of J. A. Mara vs. T. W. Jones and others, which arose out of a dispute as to the ownership of certain plant and machinery at the Star mine, witnesses were examined and the judgment was reserved.

IMITATING LONSDALE.

Mr. W. M. Pike, of Saturna Island, left Westminster on Tuesday for Calgary, en route for the Arctic circle. Mr. Pike goes by stage from Calgary to Edmonton, thence by the Hudson Bay steamer to Athabasca Landing. From the landing the trip will be continued by the famous batteaux up the Athabasca river to Fort Chipperwyan on Athabasca lake. After crossing the lake the journey will be resumed by the Great Slave river to Fort Resolution on the shores of Great Slave lake. Here a stop will be made till an opportunity occurs to reach Fort Rae, about 200 miles up the lake, almost directly north of Fort Resolution. After making his quarters here for some time, Mr. Pike will go to Old Fort Confidence at the head of Great Bear Lake. By this time he will be within the arctic circle. Mr. Pike will hunt across the several hundred miles of snowy waste that lies between the Fort and Bathurst Inlet on the Arctic Ocean. Mr. Pike will hunt the polar bear spending several months at this pastime. If the sport has been good he will turn homewards about July 1890, reaching British Columbia late in the fall.

Mr. Pike is one of the most enthusiastic sportsmen living, and, at the same time, one of the most accomplished and successful. He has hunted and fished all over the globe, and has killed almost every kind of game but the polar bear and musk-ox, and it is solely to kill a few of these animals that he is making his present trip. He has visited the arctic regions before, but on a fishing trip only and in the direction of Iceland and Nova Zembla. Through influence with the Hudson's Bay Company, Mr. Pike has obtained an unlimited credit, right to use the company's boats, train dogs, etc. In fact he will have the command of all the facilities the company may have which he may deem of service to him in his excursion. Mr. Pike goes alone, and his only companions on the hunting trips will be an Indian or two, experienced in tracking the game. He takes 200 pounds of ammunition, but nothing else. He will return home either across the country to Fort Churchill on the Hudson's Bay, and thence by ship to England, or by the way of the Yukon River down to the Pacific coast. Columbian.

THE SOCIAL EVENT OF HALIFAX.

The most brilliant social event of the season was the marriage at St. Luke's cathedral this afternoon of Miss Geraldine Stewart, daughter of Col. Stewart, to Captain Belleau, of the Royal Artillery.

THE ROYAL STATUE CAST ASIDE.

Great activity prevails at the works around the Quebec parliament buildings, where 200 men are employed on improvements. The statue of Her Majesty the Queen, imported some years ago to be placed above the foundation, has been set aside, and a historical group is now being made in Paris for the position.

NIGHT SCHOOLS.

At a meeting in the Normal School Hon. G. W. Ross, and the representatives of the free public libraries and the officers of the art schools throughout the province, conferred together as to the advisability of amalgamating these institutions for carrying on evening classes in centres of population. The meeting, which was large, endorsed the scheme, it being represented that mechanics institutes are about, through lack of funds, to provide industrial instruction for the working classes.

LETTER DELIVERY.

Toronto, June 8.—Messrs. Fraser & Co., of Hamilton, who have started a letter delivery in that city, inform the post office department that they have been advised by a local lawyer that the government has no monopoly on the delivery of mails and consequently are inclined to fight the case. The Minister of Justice is firmly of opinion that exclusive right to carry and deliver letters pertains to the Federal authorities, and the chances are Messrs. Fraser & Co. will have to defend their views of the case in the courts.

Buried the Hatchet.

It was officially stated at the Northern Pacific railroad offices, New York, on Friday that the Union and Northern Pacific presidents had agreed upon a joint board of directors for the Oregon Navy, and that liquidation would be discontinued, that the Union Pacific continues its guarantee of six per cent dividends on the Oregon navigation stock, and that a common trackage agreement is pledged.

IRELAND SYMPATHIZES.

Dublin, June 10.—A meeting of the municipal council was held to-day to arrange the raising of funds for the relief of the Johnstown sufferers. A letter was received from Archbishop Walsh inclosing a subscription of £100. A message was sent to President Harrison expressing the sympathy of the Irish people for the afflicted community and praying that all the consolation that was possible might be given.

THE CZAR'S THREAT.

Berlin, June 10.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Cologne Gazette says the Czar told the Shah, and hotly, that if while in England he should make any concessions unfavorable to Russia 100,000 Russian soldiers now on the frontier would be made to march into Persia.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

London, June 10.—A teacher named Keeling, while traveling by train to Birmingham with his sweetheart, shot her and threw the body out of the carriage. Keeling then committed suicide.

AUSTRALIAN MAIL SERVICE.

Montreal, June 10.—Pridham, of Australia, is here making inquiries about the Canadian Pacific Railroad as a mail route in behalf of Australia. He says there is a very great feeling of annoyance in Australia against the American government for not assisting the mail service between the two countries.

THE FISH WOMAN'S REMAINS.

London, June 10.—The left hand and arm of the Fish woman, a portion of whose body has been found in different parts of the Thames, was taken from the river this morning. Another portion of the body was found in the river this afternoon. A third fragment with no clothing on it was picked up in Sir Percy Shelly's garden at Chelsea.

REBELLION IN MOROCCO.

London, June 10.—A dispatch from Morocco says the rebellion of tribesmen is spreading. They have captured Captain Hamid, heir to the throne, and killed several members of his escort. This outrage has incensed the Sultan of Morocco and he is raising an army to crush the rebels.

WAR ON BOULANGISTS.

Paris, June 10.—Etienne Sous, intendant militaire, one of the attaches of the ministry of war, has been arrested. It is believed the papers seized in the houses of two Boulangist leaders yesterday showed them to be implicated in a Boulangist plot.

Two houses of Boulangists have been searched again by police. It is alleged papers which implicate Boulanger in the international plot were discovered. The seizure has caused intense excitement in Paris.

Owing to the revelations in the seized Boulangist papers, the high court has ordered the arrest of Captain Fouchal, of the war office.

MRS. FIRBY.

San Francisco, June 10.—Mrs. Evelyn P. Ferry, the lady who has been the cause of so much scandal in the American colony of Paris during the past few months, brought out to-day through her attorney, G. Booth and S. M. Shortridge, suit for a divorce from her husband Clinton P. Ferry, on the ground of cruelty and neglect.

A Bonded Chinee.

A rather extraordinary duty bearing article arrived at Ottawa on Tuesday the 4th instant, in bond over the C. P. R. from Vancouver. The bill of lading read as follows: "One Chinaman, named Ham Ah Mong, age 28, height 5 feet 3½ inches; description, 3 scars on a line across left elbow and 3 scars on left shin." As the conductors of the train Ham went on charged at the various divisions they had to give a signed acknowledgment of the safe receipt of the bonded heathen. Ham arrived none the worse for his long journey and was welcomed by his brethren in Ottawa. Ham paid the Government $60, and all the papers being duly signed, he was released out of bond.

A Missouri farmer, who boasted that he had not taken a newspaper in his house for the last 40 years," was visited the other day by two confidence men and swindled out of $2,000 in a way often exposed by the newspapers. He would have made money by taking and reading a newspaper.

Mayor Fitler, of Philadelphia, has not yet recovered from a shock he received a few days ago. A little messenger boy had brought a note to the Mayor's office and was waiting for a reply. Mr. Fitler was taking his time about the answer, when the boy exclaimed, "Hurry up, Mayor, I can't wait here all day." The Mayor jumped as though he had been struck by a Presidential nomination. He looked at the boy in amazement, then angrily, then in a deprecating way, and finally surrendered completely and rapidly finished his note.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.
As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country. In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been its highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reason the profits are returned, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

The bark Paul, now lying at Hall & Goepel's wharf, has been chartered to load lumber on Puget Sound for Valparaiso and will be towed over in a day or two. The vessel has undergone a thorough overhauling and her rigging and hull has been repainted.

Thrown Out.

The mail matter for Her Majesty's navy was ignominiously thrown out of the postoffice at Esquimalt this morning for a slight reason. The stage driver then entrusted it to the care of Officer Campbell, and reported the affair to the post office authorities in this city.

Mortuary.

The funeral of Henry Wouscott occurred this afternoon.

The remains of the late J. Stuart Macdonald, who died of dropsy at St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday evening, will be interred here instead of at his late home in Portland, where his wife is at present.

Relief Still Wanted.

I have your telegram to the Mayor. Our wants have been and are great. We have been and are now receiving gratefully, liberal aid daily and from Tacoma and elsewhere. The relief committee are using all contributions as best they can. Any contribution from your city will be thankfully received.

J. R. Lewis,
Chairman Relief Committee.

I beg herewith to enclose you the amount contributed on Sabbath evening in the Methodist church towards the Seattle Relief Fund, viz., $[illegible]. Yours sincerely, J. E. Starr.

Supreme Court.

The hearing of the case of Warren vs. Boscowitz was resumed in the Supreme Court yesterday and is going on again to-day. Mr. Warren occupied the stand a portion of yesterday and Mr. Boscowitz is under examination to-day.

Without Levity.

Mr. Eli Perkins will arrive in the city this evening, and lecture in the Victoria Theatre to-morrow evening, and not on Thursday as previously announced. Mr. Perkins has chosen for his subject the "Philosophy of Wit," a subject which everyone will want to hear him handle. If he can tell his audience the causes, reasons, in fact the science, of wit without producing that levity which it is so much opposed to, it will be interesting.

Building Notes.

Two residences will be erected at once on Yates street opposite the electric light works by Mr. W. P. Sayward. Sherbourne & Bishop are the contractors and the price will be about $2500 for each.

Mr. Wm. Grimm intends to erect a three storey brick with basement on the south side of Johnson street above Douglas. The property has a frontage of 60 feet and 120 feet depth. The time of commencing operations has not been definitely set.

Festival at Cedar Hill.

A strawberry festival was held at Cedar Hill last evening by the ladies of the district, on behalf of the organ fund. Mr. Landells occupied the chair. An excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, and addresses were given. A recitation by Miss White was especially well rendered. At the close of the programme genuine strawberries and cream were served and thoroughly enjoyed by every one. Proceedings closed at a late hour with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Reserved Seats Question.

Parties called at THE TIMES office today and complained very strongly of the management at the theatre last night. People who thought they had reserved seats for the evening went to the theatre to find them occupied by some one else. Others paying $1.50, the price advertised for "reserved seats," were surprised during the evening by being asked to vacate the seats they had occupied. Some seats were even said to have been sold twice, and no little confusion resulted. Such as these occur in this city a little oftener than there is any necessity for, and as a rule spoil the evening's pleasure for all concerned. When seats are reserved the management is bound to deliver them, and failing to do so they are without doubt liable to pay damages.

Victoria Water.

Mr. Jack Carman, formerly of the Dominion Hotel, Kamloops, has been paying Victoria a visit and finds everything about the city, climate and all, much to his mind, save the water. Victoria water, he argues, should never be taken straight, and he further is of the opinion that the board of health should furnish lemons gratis to consumers. We concur with Jack that Victoria water goes down with greater relish when it is fortified with something, the same as Kamloops whiskey is made more tolerable by the addition of a modicum of the Thompson river. Jack returned to Kamloops this morning, and we can conceive that as soon as he arrives there he will resume acquaintance with the numerous beverages which adorn the streets of the metropolis of the interior.

First Case of Its Kind.

At the next term of the court at Sitka a case of considerable importance will come up for trial, relative to the importation of contract labor into the domains of the United States. Mr. Murray, representing one of the Chilcat canning companies, it appears, contracted with some men in Victoria, B. C., for a season's work in his cannery. After arriving and working for a while some trouble between Mr. Murray and the men arose and they were discharged, which resulted in a lawsuit, with judgment in favor of the workingmen for a small amount, which was very unsatisfactory to them, so, in order to obtain satisfaction, they filed a complaint with the proper authority, setting forth that their services had been contracted for in a British port in violation of the statutory laws of the United States. This will be the first case of the kind ever tried in an Alaska court, and will be watched with considerable interest. The penalty is quite severe for violation of this law, being, we believe, a fine of $1000 for each laborer thus hired.

"As You Like It."

We have often felt that Shakespeare's plays, particularly his comedies, read better than they act, but Modjeska's Rosalind in "As You Like It," has completely disabused us of this opinion. Rosalind's philosophy and love making, as impersonated by Modjeska, ceases to be mere rhetorical effort. We see Rosalind, and what is peculiar to the star in this regard, is largely reproduced by all of the members of her support, in their respective characters. This feature we regard as inseparable from a proper appreciation of Shakespearean character. Impersonate Rosalind, Falstaff, Macbeth, and Hamlet, as true to the original as the actor may, unless the characters which cluster about the central figure are honestly reproduced, the effect is as a room incompletely furnished. No such objection may be urged against the Modjeska Company. Each actor bears his part with great fidelity to the original; these satellites, in fact, were almost as bright as the central luminary. Modjeska's is a subtle interpretation of Rosalind. She is womanish without swagger, and her simulated affection for Orlando particularly at the point where he breaks his engagement with her in consequence of wounds received from an encounter with a wild beast, is the essence of reality. Besides Celia, whose acting was demure, the terrible Duke, and the loquacious Oliver, we have in Touchstone a delectable compound of humor and philosophy. Shakespearean humor has a good exponent in Touchstone. This evening the Modjeska Company will present Mary Stuart, and as the sale of seats already is large, we may infer that standing room will be at a premium.

Johnson and Slavin's Minstrels.

This celebrated company will appear at the Victoria on Wednesday evening, the short announcement being due to cancelling of engagements for Seattle. The New York Times of a recent date, speaks of the performance as follows: "The season at the Star Theatre opened last evening with a packed house. Johnson & Slavin's Minstrels were the attraction and they gave an unusually good performance. Not everybody would suppose that the 'cork' minstrel was the lineal descendent of the troubadour and the minter-singer, but the show last night opened with a series of really fine tableaux representing the birth, rise and triumph of minstrelsy, 'the troubadours, the bard of the Iron Age,' the 15th century, the 'Old Kentucky Home,' and then the rising curtain disclosed the Johnson and Slavin company, handsomely attired in vari-colored satin court costumes. There was a notable absence of the well worn stock jokes, and the substitutes were, as a rule, not only fresh but bright and witty. Carroll Johnson, Bob Slavin, Hughey Dougherty and Jay Quigley, the end men, were very original and funny. The audience applauded them heartily, as they did the singing of F. B. Malcolm, Raymond Shaw, the Crawford Brothers, Will Stephens, Harry Forseman and others. Dougherty and Quigley in a tariff discussion, a clog dance, and drill called "Joys of the Midway," "Twilight on the Bayou," the Selbini troupe, who, by the way, are little short of marvellous as bicyclists and acrobats and a more or less local but very funny burlesque called "The Lost Ace; or, the Island of Pokah," completed the performance. On the whole, it may be classed as among the most imbitious and satisfactory "burnt cork" exhibitions the metropolis has yet seen."

COOKED FOOD.

The Kind of Relief That Seattle Requires—A Leaf Daily.

One or two of our generous citizens, on learning of the true state of affairs at Seattle and the kind of relief required have set about to supply it. As many have suggested it is not money but food, cooked food, that the people of the stricken city require and this need will be felt for a week or two to come. It is suggested that whatever money has been collected should be used to purchase food and the food forwarded by boat daily. Many who cannot very well give money can furnish edibles of one kind or another. A loaf of bread daily from each family would not be a great tax on their resources and all put together would feed many a hungry stomach. Canned meats, fish, fruit, canned goods of any kind are suitable things to send. Mr. Evans, the Yates street butcher, who is an old Seattleite, offers to cook free of charge any meats which people may wish to send. All they have to do is to go to one of the butchers and purchase a piece of meat and he will cook it and send it on. Anything in the line of hams he will supply at cost. Mr. Jos. Heywood has been around town to-day busily attending to this matter, although it is work which properly belongs to a good-sized committee. It is to be hoped our citizens will respond liberally. Victoria should have been sending a daily supply of food across the water since Friday, but it is not too late to commence yet and to relieve a great deal of suffering.

THE FIFTH KINGDOM.

The four universal kingdoms are to be broken in pieces by the stone cut out without hands, which stone becomes a great mountain and fills the whole earth. It is plain that this earth is to be purified by fire, and then becomes the territory of the fifth kingdom.

In Isa. 45:18, we find the purpose expressed by the Lord in the formation of the earth: "For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God Himself that formed the earth and made it; He hath established it, He created it not in vain, He formed it to be inhabited. I am the Lord; and there is none else."

He certainly did not form it to be inhabited by a race of wicked beings such as now dwell upon it. It must be inhabited by those who are in harmony with his own will, and this purpose will be carried out. Accordingly, we find promise made to the righteous that they shall inherit the land, Ps. 37:11, "The meek shall inherit the earth." So says our Lord himself in Math 5:5, "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." This is fulfilled in the present condition of this world; nor can it be as long as sin and sinners remain.

The new earth, the everlasting abode of the saints, is described by John in Revelation 21. The New Jerusalem, which comes down from heaven, the city of beauty and glory, is its grand metropolis. All tears are wiped away, sorrow or care; pain never enters; and the former things are passed away. All things are made new. The Son of God and the Lamb is the light of it, and the nations of the saved bring their honor and glory into it. There will be no night there! Nothing will ever enter in to defile or to destroy, and they only will possess it who are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

In Isaiah' 35th chapter, it is described as the place where the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf unstopped, and the lame man shall leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; in the wilderness waters break forth, and streams in the desert. The parched ground becomes a pool, the thirsty ground springs of water; and the ransomed of the Lord come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads.

There is the river of life, that stream which makes glad the City of the Lord; and the tree of life which is for the service of the nations. Then God's original purpose concerning the earth will be carried out. And then the wicked, having all been destroyed, the universal song of jubilee heard by John in vision on Patmos will rise to God, when every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them will be heard saying: "Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb forever and ever." Rev. 5:13.

The subject for to-night—Second coming of Christ.

CHEATED THE GALLOWS.

The Chinese Murderer Anticipates the Sentence of the Court.

Chau Ah Heung, the murderer of the Chinese girl, You Kum, committed suicide in his cell at the Provincial jail between five and six last evening. To those who understood the Chinese character, the news did not come unexpectedly. The Chinese will not come to the gallows if they can help it. The prisoner, while awaiting execution in July, was placed temporarily in cell No. 45, the same cell as Sproule and other murderers have been confined in. He was very despondent and protested his innocence of the crime for which he was to die. A close watch was kept upon him. At a quarter past five he was passed in his supper through the wicket in the cell by one of the jail employees. A few minutes later the same attendant went to the cell to remove the tin platter and cup, which constitute the table furniture of prisoners, and observed that there was no sound within the cell. He reported the fact to Turnkey Muldoon, who opened the door at once to find the Chinaman hanging by the neck. Muldoon at once cut the body down, and says he found the heart still beating and the eyes moved convulsively. Dr. McNaughton Jones was sent for and efforts made to resuscitate the body, but without avail.

The improvised cord used by the prisoner to take his life was made out of his undershirt, which he tore in strips for the purpose. He then rolled his blankets into as thick a bundle as possible, and standing on them fastened the cord in a hole in the ceiling. All that remained was to fasten the cord around his neck and kick the bundle from under him to complete the work. This he did successfully. No blame, it is believed, can be attached to jail officials for the occurrence.

So recently has it been our lot to chronicle what was one of the most diabolical murders that have ever been committed in this province, that it may be said the ink used on the occasion, if dead, is still fresh on our pages. In a marvellous short time, the murderer was apprehended, brought before the judicial, found guilty, and sentenced to a death on the gallows. The news now comes, the murderer has anticipated the carrying out of the sentence, by committing suicide. With the very hands so recently imbrued in innocent blood, Chau Ah Heung opened the gates of death, and left behind him a victim of his own murderous hands. The circumstances which led to the murder—how in a transport of rage caused by jealousy, he mercilessly took the life of one he loved, and all the attendant circumstances, have appeared in our columns and with them the public are more or less familiar. Haunted by the recollection of that awful night, no doubt, and having had time to acquire a hate for his crime so as to be made well nigh insane by the memory of it, he sought the most expeditious method of putting an end to his existence. Opposite his bed and opening into an adjoining cell, stood a door, over which was a wicket. His little dark piercing eyes no doubt soon took in the situation, the feasibility of slipping through the aperture a cord strong enough to bear the weight of his person. Acting on this discovery, he soon had the means with which to accomplish his purpose.

Last Saturday he was paid a visit in his cell by Mr. Gardner, to whom he protested his innocence, but inasmuch as the evidence of his guilt was so lucid, his protest could not have received much credence.

The By-Laws.

Voting took place to-day on the loan and street railway by-laws. At 4 p. m. about 300 votes had been polled, the large majority in favor of the by-law. It is believed that the by-laws have been again carried by a large majority.

H. M. S. Champion.

The Champion sailed from San Francisco last Thursday and is expected to arrive in Esquimalt any moment. After calling in at Mederia and St. Vincent, she received orders at Montevideo to look for shipwrecked mariners at the island of Terra del Fuego. The cruiser went as far as Beagle channel, and passing through the Straits of Magellan and Smyth's channel stopped in at Valparaiso, Coquimbo, Callao and Acapulco.

Scorpions.

Mr. E. A. Hart visited the TIMES office this morning bringing with him a fine sample of pedipalpous pulmonary arachnidan, or in plain English, a scorpion, inclosed in a bottle containing alcohol. This insect was imported from one of the West India Islands, and is somewhat larger than the native product which thrive in Nevada and Arizona. Mr. Hart has presented this magnificent sample of insectiverous ugliness to the provincial museum.

Almost a Fire.

Two small boys, aged about five and seven, set fire to some grass on a lot adjoining Mr. Caton's residence, Kingston street, James Bay, to-day. But for the timely assistance rendered by the neighbors it would have soon developed into a large fire. As it was Mr. Caton's fences and house were for a time in great danger. When the little fellows saw what damage they had done they scampered off home with lively apprehensions no doubt of the maternal slipper. Parents should be careful to keep matches out of reach of their children.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, on Sunday morning, of dropsy, John Stuart Macdonald, late Provincial Consul at Portland, Oregon, aged 50 years.

The funeral will take place to-morrow at 9:30 a. m., from C. Hayward's undertaking rooms, and at 9 o'clock from St. Andrew's Cathedral. View Street.

Friends are invited to attend.
